

Her Twisted Charming Eyes

By Daniel Varona

She floors the pedal and
She redlines my heart

There's no time for breathing
This is just about feeling

She's a lunatic and out of her mind,
But she got me with her twisted charming eyes

For a moment, I knew it all
"It's not that hard, it all makes sense
It all adds up, it's easy to explain
There's an equation for this and a formula for that"

"That's so great! That's so smart!
You're really special and you really know your stuff!

But what if...?" She said with her twisted charming eyes

She floors the pedal and
She redlines my heart

There's no time for breathing
This is just about feeling

She's a lunatic and out of her mind,
But she got me with her twisted charming eyes

She doesn't care for your logic or facts
She's here to make the stars a lot closer to us

I can study all the knowledge, but her voice will destroy it

We don't need to make sense, we just need to stay friends
Together feels right because I can look into her twisted charming eyes

She floors the pedal and
She redlines my heart

There's no time for breathing
This is just about feeling

She's a lunatic and out of her mind,
But she got me with her twisted charming eyes
