

There's No Enemy Behind You

By Daniel Varona

There's no enemy behind you
The coast is clear, the boat is near
Take me as I come, you can break me but I won't
Left for dead is the story they told
Met her, good ol' friend it's been so long
End of the world, edge of the world
Knew I'd see you with no blame
It's all the same, ready for a change
There's no enemy behind you

Miracles in my day
Were the change that led to change
Stories untold, memories unfold
A hand for a hand is all that's on my mind

There's no enemy behind you
You went there but now they can't find you
Make a wish upon a star
Maybe all can be alright
Your world is made of bold
Your smile makes friends with the shadows
MIA is a blessing you've yet to understand
Surely this life is pining for your heart
The coast is clear, the boat is near

Miracles in my day
Were the change that led to change
Stories untold, memories unfold
A hand for a hand is all that's on my mind

Miracles in my day
Were the change that led to change
Stories untold, memories unfold
A hand for a hand is all that's on my mind
