

Why

By Daniel Varona

Why is this happening
Where is this going
Uncertainty overshadows conviction
Conviction overshadowed by hesitation
The shadow of doubt foretells the progression
The spirit of hope doesn't dwell on machinations
Who are they kidding
Why is this happening
Where is it going

What is going through your head
Creativity, impact, recognition
Nah, that's a rigged game
Do they wanna be led?
Do they wanna be taught?
Do they wanna be – No

There's no way they're all the same
That's the bet you're gonna make
Shake the tree, out the fake
Take the blame, it's a single player game

I know you want the money
Come and take the trophy
Obsessive, possessive, compulsive
This is yours to take, but first I want my pay
Everything you got, that seems like fair play

Redefine the framework
Perspective's your only card
Your vantage will catch them off guard
Flip the switch, now you're in my backyard
Their dogmas, their tenets, you'll kindly disregard

Why is this happening
Where is this going
Uncertainty overshadows conviction
Conviction overshadowed by hesitation
The shadow of doubt foretells the progression
The spirit of hope doesn't dwell on machinations
Who are they kidding
Why is this happening
Where is it going
